

Become a moneycorp partner

moneycorp's partnerships model was born from the realisation that the FX market is highly saturated and it can be difficult for clients to identify a reliable and secure counterparty to work with and trust.

Here at moneycorp we have a dedicated, experienced and talented team who work alongside you to provide the service that your clients deserve.

At the heart of our partnerships team is transparency, with a product offering that will work as a free value-added service for your client base to help strengthen your ongoing relationship.

Using our platform and expert knowledge, we will help your clients benchmark their existing offering by understanding their exposure and potential FX risks. This will allow us to demonstrate our great rates and customised FX hedging solutions available to them.
